In the Summer of 1991 four accounts were open with Madoff Securities, with each account to mirror each other. The accounts were in the names of:

1. Richard Surabian
2. Steven Surabian
3. Martin M. Surabian, Alice V. Surabian, Richard Surabian and Steven Surabian
4. Alice V. Surabian, Martin M. Surabian, Richard Surabian and Steven Surabian

Nothing was ever sold or any money ever taking out.

Our four statements reflected our deposits and purchases of securities and showed great return.

So in 1992 we opened three more accounts:

One in the name of Stephanie LaFlash and Steven Surabian. Stephanie was Steve Surabian's daughter who did later change her name to Stephanie LaFlash-Surabian. The other two accounts will be half of value of Stephanie's. These accounts were in the names of Erik M. Surabian and Richard Surabian and the last account was in the name of Kristen E. Surabian and Richard Surabian.

Again no money was never taking out nor were any securities sold.

Everything matched the statements.

In the Spring of 2006 we informed Madoff we wanted to start to cash out everything. After which the statements stopped, we then realized we have been taking.

We had long since discarded or lost track of the original paperwork plus we have had several burglaries at our business and home and we now believe these papers may have been taken during these burglaries.

We knew if we just waited things will come back on Madoff as they always do to people who brings harm to us or our families which now Madoff and his culprits have been exposed.

In the Summer of 1991 four accounts were open with Madoff Securities, with each account to mirror each other. The accounts were in the names of:

1. Richard Surabian
2. Steven Surabian
3. Martin M. Surabian, Alice V. Surabian, Richard Surabian and Steven Surabian
4. Alice V. Surabian, Martin M. Surabian, Richard Surabian and Steven Surabian

Nothing was ever sold or any money ever taking out.

Our four statements reflected our deposits and purchases of securities and showed great return.

So in 1992 we opened three more accounts:

One in the name of Stephanie LaFlash and Steven Surabian. Stephanie was Steve Surabian's daughter who did later change her name to Stephanie LaFlash-Surabian. The other two accounts will be half of value of Stephanie's. These accounts were in the names of Erik M. Surabian and Richard Surabian and the last account was in the name of Kristen E. Surabian and Richard Surabian.

Again no money was never taking out nor were any securities sold.

Everything mached the statements.

In the Spring of 2006 we informed Madoff we wanted to start to cash out everything. After which the statements stopped, we then realized we have been taking.

We had long since discarded or lost track of the original paperwork plus we have had several burglaries at our business and home and we now believe these papers may have been taken during these burglaries.

We knew if we just waited things will come back on Madoff as they always do to people who brings harm to us or our families which now Madoff and his culprits have been exposed.
